About the Seminar

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is a multidisciplinary field whose goal is to automate activities that presently require human intelligence. It is increasingly prevalent in our daily lives. AI has emerged as a critical driver of innovation, influencing industries and reshaping the global socio-economic landscape. This seminar will delve into its wide-ranging applications, including sustainable development, education, healthcare, finance, governance, and ethics. By fostering inter-disciplinary dialogues, the event seeks to identify opportunities, challenges, and strategies for harnessing AI responsibly and effectively. This seminar will bring together eminent scholars, researchers, and practitioners from diverse fields to deliberate on the profound impact of artificial intelligence on society and its transformative potential.

Join us to explore the dynamic interplay between Artificial Intelligence and society, paving the way for innovative solutions to contemporary issues.
